

MANAGING DISEASE AT THE WILDLIFE-LIVESTOCK INTERFACE, Zaragoza (Spain), 26-30 November 2018

Hour	Monday 26	Tuesday 27	Wednesday 28	Thursday 29	Friday 30
9:00-10:00	Opening	What is the purpose? Different approaches for different needs M.C. Arnal	Group work Presentation of results of Session I and discussion J.R. López-Olvera, M.C. Arnal, C. Gortázar, F. Smith, E. Ferroglio, G. Cáceres	Population management D. Delahay	The social and economic dimension G. Enticott
10:00-11:00	Introduction and basic principles E. Ferroglio, G. Cáceres	Integrated monitoring Identifying hotspots C. Gortázar	Translocation of livestock and wildlife E. Ferroglio Waste management J.R. López-Olvera	Medication C. Gortázar, E. Ferroglio
Coffee break
11:30-12:30	Introduction and basic principles E. Ferroglio, G. Cáceres	Use of novel molecular tools F. Smith	Managing interactions between livestock and wildlife G. Cáceres	Controlling vector-borne diseases E. Ferroglio	Group work: Presentation of results of Session II and discussion J.R. López-Olvera, M.C. Arnal, C. Gortázar, G. Enticott, E. Ferroglio, G. Cáceres
12:30-13:30	Dynamics and complexity of infections in wildlife D. Delahay	Case studies: Avian influenza and African Swine Fever G. Cáceres	Modelling F. Smith	Case studies: Leishmania and Rift Valley Fever E. Ferroglio	Case study: Tuberculosis C. Gortázar, D. Delahay
Lunch break
15:00-16:00	Epidemiological investigations G. Cáceres	Acceptance, control or eradication Overview of intervention options: advantages and drawbacks J.R. López-Olvera, C. Gortázar	Technical visit: the interface in practice – wildlife-related risks in intensive and extensive farming M.C. Arnal, C. Gortázar,	Combining approaches G. Cáceres, C. Gortázar	Final remarks and discussion J.R. López-Olvera, M.C. Arnal, C. Gortázar, G. Enticott, E. Ferroglio, G. Cáceres
16:00-17:00	Challenges in dealing with infections in wildlife D. Delahay	Group work on surveillance and management based on case studies Introduction to the practical J.R. López-Olvera		Assessing the effect of intervention Ecological impacts of interventions D. Delahay, J.R. López-Olvera
17:00-18:00	Demonstration of sample collection, handling and storage M.C. Arnal, D. Fernández de Luco	Group work Session I: Monitoring and surveillance J.R. López-Olvera, M.C. Arnal, C. Gortázar, F. Smith, E. Ferroglio, G. Cáceres		Group work Session II: Management approaches J.R. López-Olvera, M.C. Arnal, C. Gortázar, E. Ferroglio, G. Cáceres
18:00-19:00					